Pottery Pact Conference Set For Nov. 8

Union Request For Re-Opening of Work Agreement Studied

Committees representing labor and management of the pottery industry will meet in East Liverpool Nov. 8 to discuss a union request for reopening of the working agreement, which has been rejected twice by the industry.

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced first plans for the conference today in its official newspaper, the Potters Herald. It said the meeting is scheduled at 1 p. m. in the U. S. Pottery Association office.

The IBOP said it already has served the USPA with a 60-day notice of contract termination and registered a copy with the commissioner of radiation and conciliation of the U. S. Labor Department. The 60-day termination notice expires on Nov. 29, the union said.

During a short-lived work stoppage that tied up three major plants in September, E. L. Wheatley, president, announced an IBOP request for a contract reopening had been rejected in a letter from the USPA.

Text of Letter

The union newspaper printed the text of the letter, signed by David G. Boyce, USPA president, which said in part:

"A poll of our members finds them unanimous in their refusal to meet with your committee for the purpose of negotiating a new wage agreement with higher wages."

"We would have no objection to meeting your committee for the purpose of discussing any changes in the agreement you may suggest, so long as it is understood we will not discuss any changes that might result in any increase in the present cost of production."

At the time, Wheatley said he IBOP had requested a reopening to talk over a "substantial" general pay increase and other contract changes.

After the union served the 60-day notice, the USPA sent a second letter reiterating its stand against a contract reopening, the union said.

It quoted from another letter signed by Boyce, saying the USPA could "find no justification" for the reopening.

Quoting the letter further, it added: "Our position is, of course, in complete accord with the provisions of the present agreement. We are unaware of any 'custom' requiring you or us to abrogate contractual rights upon the giving of receipt of a 60-day notice."

The Nov. 8 meeting was arranged as a result of further exchanges between the union and management, the IBOP said.

The IBOP said its executive board has endorsed "local unions" many requests for contract openings.

Without citing figures, the IBOP said the earnings of its members

France Takes Algeria Issue Before U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — France charged Egypt today with direct responsibility in the Algerian rebellion and called on the U. N. Security Council to act.

A former request for U. N. action was handed to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld by French delegate Bernard Cornut-Gentille. The complaint was listed as: "Military assistance rendered by the Egyptian government to rebels in Algeria."

Cornut-Gentille's letter was accompanied by a memorandum giving details of the seizure earlier this week of the yacht Athos loaded with arms allegedly intended for the Algerians.

The memorandum said the arms were loaded in Alexandria on the night of Oct. 3-4 and charged the Athos had on board six clandestine passengers trained in Egypt for military and sabotage activities in Algeria.

Ike Says Safeguards To Dictate When U. S. Ceases Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says Adlai E. Stevenson's stand on hydrogen bomb testing only clouds a "compelling challenge" to make nuclear war impossible.

Eisenhower told a capacity crowd in New York's Madison Square Garden — and the nation by radio-TV — Thursday night the goal of his administration to find a "safe and sound" means of disarmament "so that history can never say that this generation left humanity to be crucified upon a cross of iron."

"The compelling challenge before the world is not the matter of testing nuclear weapons—but of making impossible their use in nuclear war," he declared.

The partisan crowd responded with its greatest swell of applause when he said the United States stands in "instant readiness to lay aside all nuclear weapons — including their testing — when, but only when, we have safeguards that others will do the same."

In the same crowded hall two nights earlier, Stevenson had won strong applause with his assertion that the United States should take the lead in seeking agreement to halt H-bomb tests as a first step toward preventing possible world destruction.

Stevenson repeated his contention that while inspection of Russian military installations is desirable, tests could be halted by agreement. He said any H-bomb explosions could be detected immediately.

Eisenhower attracted an estimated 10,000 standees outside the Garden, while Stevenson had few. Stevenson rode almost unnoticed through New York streets. Eisenhower was cheered by crowds bunched on street corners where police had halted traffic for his caravan.

Eisenhower fired back at Stevenson's contention — voiced in two days of campaigning in the New York area — that the Republican administration had not produced a new idea or a major accomplishment in four years. Stevenson said repeatedly that a new Republican idea was only a Democratic idea at its 25th reunion.

Eisenhower replied that when they took office in 1953, the Repub-

8 Children Die In Car-Train Crash

Mother Is Injured In Tragic Mishap

SIGOURNEY, Iowa (AP) — "It was bad walking into that empty house . . . always before there'd be someone yelling 'Hi, Dad.'"

"This time—only silence. It's going to be rough for a while."

That's how Richard Hammes, 46, a farmer near this small south-east Iowa town, spoke of the tragic car-train crash that killed all eight of his children at a rail crossing 3 miles northeast of here Thursday.

His wife, Ruth, 36, was injured in the accident, which started as a routine one-mile trip from the Hammes 100-acre farm to take the older children to the Plank Township Rural Grade School, Mrs. Hammes was reported in fair condition at the Keokuk County Hospital here.

In this southeast Iowa town of 2,300, townspeople stood on street corners discussing the accident in muted tones. It was about the only topic of conversation.

Hammes said a neighbor lady informed him of the accident. "I didn't think at first it would be real bad. Maybe the car banged up a little . . ."

"When I got there I saw some of the kids were hurt—real bad. I went over to my wife. She was sitting on the ground, holding the two young ones . . ."

The Hammes children were Ronnie and Donnie, twins aged 9; Karen, 8; Linda, 7; Gary, 6; Rosemary, 5; and twins, Rickie and Vicky, 1. Ronnie died at the hospital. The others all died at the crash scene.

Funeral services for the eight children will be held at 9:30 a. m. CST Saturday in St. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church in Clear Creek, about 8 miles east of here.

The Salem Board of Education, Supt. Kerr and school Business Manager Darrell Fadely are checking the plans as they are completed in sections by the architects.

Final approval of the detailed drawings is expected by the board next month so that advertising for bids can begin.

Voters last November approved a $2,585,000 bond issue to finance the construction of a new, three-year senior high school and to renovate the present high school into a three-year junior high.

The new school will be located between E. 6th and E. 9th Sts., and N. Lincoln and N. Union Aves. Architects handling the project are Fulton, Krinsky and DelaMotte of Cleveland.

PROTEST RED ACTIONS IN HUNGARY — Weeping Mrs. Maria Szoo, carrying a sign draped in black, leads pickets past the Russian U. N. headquarters building in New York. The pickets were protesting the use of Soviet tanks and planes to put down the Hungarian revolt.

UN May Probe Soviet Role In Hungarian War

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today the Western Big Three may soon ask the United Nations Security Council to deal with the question of what part the Soviet Union played in the Hungarian revolt.

Pineau, replying to questions at a Foreign Press Assn. luncheon, said the Big Three are now discussing such a step among themselves. He said they would accuse the Soviet Union of employing force within another independent nation.

Pineau gave no details, noting with uncustomary brevity that a complaint to the Security Council can only come from a government and adding that France, Britain and the United States are discussing such an initiative.

In London, Sir George Young, Foreign Office spokesman, was asked earlier whether Britain is considering any sort of intervention in the U. N. on Hungary.

"All aspects of the situation are being carefully considered," he replied.

Young said demonstrators in Budapest had asked the British minister to take their case to the U. N. He said about 50 demonstrators who protested that Russian troops had been used illegally to put down disturbances

Hagerty said it is "absolutely and categorically" untrue that Eisenhower suffered a relapse at any time on the trip. Hagerty told reporters there has been no relapse on that or any other occasion.

Opening the discussion on his own, without waiting for questions at his news conference, Hagerty said he obtained a copy of the Pearson column from newspapers which queried him about it. The column was distributed for publication tomorrow.

Hagerty said that on one page alone there were 10 misstatements of fact—3 in one sentence. Hagerty went over what he called the misstatements one by one. At the end, he remarked:

"I am trying not to get mad on this one, but—" he shook his head vigorously from side to side. Then he went on, "Well, I think this is about the worst job of reporting I have ever seen."

Red Government Efforts To Halt Rebellion Futile

Thousands Are Killed Or Wounded; Workers Go Out On Strike

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungary's anti-Communist civil war spread over much of the country today despite orders from the government for an all-out military effort to crush the rebels.

Three Belgian diplomats who arrived at the Austrian border after leaving Budapest at 11 a. m. said:

"The whole of Western Hungary is in the hands of the rebels. Heavy fighting raged throughout Thursday night and also today in Budapest, with scores of Russian tanks taking part."

"The dead and dying were lying about everywhere in the streets," the diplomats reported.

Rebels controlled the highway to Vienna, from Budapest to the border. Rebel civilians and Hungarian soldiers who had deserted to the revolution stopped the Belgians six times enroute to the Austrian frontier.

Thousands Killed, Wounded

Several thousand persons were believed dead or wounded in fighting that had flamed for three days in the Danube capital and spread to the western countryside and such major cities as Győr, Szeged, Szolnok and Pecs.

Three radio stations apparently were in the hands of rebel forces. All were heard faintly here, calling themselves "The Freedom Radio." Two identified themselves as being at Pecs, near the Yugoslav frontier, and Miskolc, near the Czech border.

Leaflets proclaiming establishment of a "revolutionary government" were being distributed.

Reports at the Austrian border indicated Hungarian workers had gone out in general strike, paralyzing railways, transport and other industry.

The pledges of the new government of Premier Imre Nagy, for a new deal with eventual withdrawal of Soviet troops from the country, apparently had not gotten anywhere. The Budapest radio broadcast repeated and urgent appeals to the rebels to give up their arms and cease the bloodshed.

Reforms are Pledged

These broadcasts pledged reforms of all kinds, an amnesty for rebels, better living conditions, independence from Moscow, and a new popular front government "today or tomorrow."

The radio appeals were addressed especially to "young soldiers" who apparently had deserted the government, to workers, youths and even "old Communists."

Some of the dead in Budapest had been shot down by Russian tanks when demonstrators ad-

COURTING THE WOMEN'S VOTE. — Both President Eisenhower and Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson are seeking the women's favor in the current campaign. After answering questions on a TV show in Washington for seven women selected by the GOP National Committee, President Eisenhower (top photo) autographs a toy elephant for one of them, Mrs. Margarite Lauranti, of Cleveland. Mrs. Louis Martin, center, of Salisbury, Md., also appeared on the show.

Obviously finding something hilarious in what has just been said, Adlai Stevenson (bottom photo) greets Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt just prior to addressing more than 1,000 members of the women's campaign committee of the Liberal party in New York. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, spent two days touring New York City.

Broken Pledges Strew GOP Path, Adlai Says

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson sought new Democratic converts in the Midwestern Farm Belt today with a promise to set up a Democratic "task force" to devise a new agricultural program for early action by Congress.

The Democratic presidential nominee said that, if elected, he will create the "task force" under

Sen. Estes Kefauver, his vice-presidential running mate, and put it to work immediately after the election.

That proposal was made in Springfield, Ill., Thursday night where a crowd of close to 5,000 cheered him and booed his mention of the names of Vice President Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

He attributed to Eisenhower "a record of calloused political perfidy" on farm promises and said the GOP President has compounded "deceit with self-righteous hypocrisy."

Stevenson flew in late Thursday night for a scheduled rally today in Rock Island's Fort Theater. He said he will ask Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Rep. Cooley (D-Mo.), who heads a similar House committee, to serve on the farm task force with Kefauver and others he will name, if elected.

He sought to dramatize the decision by announcing the task force plan both in his Springfield speech and in a statement preceding his talk at the close of a "Farm Day" conference there.

"One reason the Eisenhower administration has been so slow in getting things done," he said in the statement, "is that when it came into office, the President started calling for studies instead of action."

Then, to the enthusiastic near-capacity crowd in the armory, he said that, if elected:

"I propose to explore at once the appointment of a task force to put the Democratic farm program in shape for swift action at the opening of Congress."

He said the Democrats already have a program "to improve the farm situation" that can be put into shape quickly.

"We must protect the family farm and help the low-income farmer—those people the President says he loves and his appointees say should be plowed under," Stevenson declared.

He said the Democrats do not regard fixed farm price supports "as the last and only word" but

COLUMBIANA

Solicitor Will Participate In Municipalities Session

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana will be represented by Village Solicitor Jack Kuhlman at a meeting in Salem Tuesday evening of solicitors of the half dozen municipalities in this area affected by the proposed advance in rates by the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia.

It is the aim of the meeting to discuss concerted action in the gas rate situation. An overall rate raise of 26 per cent is held to be exorbitant even if any raise at all is justified.

The company has rejected a compromise offer by the city of Salem, and none of the other municipalities affected has accepted its proposal.

A meeting in Columbiana village hall at 7:30 p.m. the same day will consider the problem of ownership of the flood lights at the football stadium in Firestone Park.

Village council, the board of affairs, the park board and Columbiana board of education will discuss the situation.

About ten years ago, the lights were installed, to be paid for by the School Athletic Association. Council was without authority to expend money to install the lights, but the village issued bonds to pay for the installation and was to be reimbursed by the athletic association. About $4,500 of the $8,000 cost remains unpaid.

The meeting was called by President K. T. Gormley of the park board, as it was considered advisable to fix the matter of ultimate ownership and responsibility for maintenance.

The Past Grands Association of the 27th district of Ohio Odd Fellows will meet in the quarters of Pandora Lodge of Columbiana tomorrow evening, when Emerson Miller of Canton, past grand master, will confer the past grand degree. The meeting will begin with a dinner at 6:30.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY Democrats have scheduled a county-wide caravan tomorrow for county and district candidates, including Congressman Wayne L. Hays.

The caravan will be assembled at the public square in Columbiana, where the candidates will have an opportunity to be heard at 9:30 a.m. From Columbiana, the caravan will proceed to East Palestine to be at the American Legion home at 10:30 a.m.

The remainder of the schedule is: New Waterford, 11 a.m.; Lisbon court house steps, 12:30 p.m.; Democratic headquarters at the Metzger Hotel, Salem, 1:30 p.m.; Main St., Leetonia, 2:45 p.m.; East Liverpool public square, 4:30 p.m., and Democratic headquarters, Wellsville, 5:30 p.m. The public is invited to join the caravan.

Fairfield township trustees have appointed extra constables for the Halloween season, Delbert Kunkle, one of the two regular constables, being a hospital patient. Halloween destruction of rural mail boxes, a federal offense, has been a subject of complaint in the last few years.

The Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia is making a 200-foot extension to serve a dozen more homes on Union St. Ext.

Leetonia Methodists To Sponsor Dinner

LEETONIA — The Leetonia Methodist Church will sponsor a public Smorgasbord Thursday, Nov. 8 at the church. It will be served cafeteria style from 5:15 to 7.

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Rosa Cox Tuesday evening. Plans were made to hold a "silent auction" at the November meeting.

Mrs. Robert Ferguson was associate hostess. Edward Rouse, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rouse, Columbiana St., was hurt in a freak accident while playing Sunday. He hit a gun shell with a hammer causing it to explode and the brass part of the shell injured his left hand causing him to have five stitches.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Houstau attended the wedding and reception Saturday of Miss Joan Hannay and Thad Lora at the Christian Church in Salem.

Three members of the Leetonia Eagles Auxiliary have resigned their offices. Mrs. Lena Roberts and Mrs. Barbara O'Black were trustees and Mrs. Julia Franko was junior past president.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Price have received word from their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Richard Price are the parents of a son, Robert, born Friday at Escondido, Calif.

The boy's sister, Juanita, 6, underwent a brain operation in a Toledo hospital Thursday. Police charged Bixler with an attack on both children Tuesday night.

Holds Off Action On Phone Strike

Gov. Lausche Awaits
Settlement of Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he will hold off calling a special legislative session proposed to solve the strike against Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

The governor said Thursday he will wait to see if settlement of the strike, now in its 104th day, can be reached by negotiation.

A citizens committee from Portsmouth, whose 40,000 residents have been without telephone service for 11 days, recommended the special legislative session after conferring with the governor Wednesday.

The group—the Voluntary Citizens Committee for Law Enforcement (VOCLE)—wants the Legislature to consider proposed laws to (1) make arbitration compulsory in existing public utility disputes and (2) forbid further strikes in utilities.

Negotiations between the company and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) have been recessed until next week.

No progress has been made on settling the 16 issues, mostly involving working conditions, which bar agreement on a new union-management contract. The old contract expired July 14, and some 600 CWA workers struck the next day.

Frank Thernes, district union representative and chairman of the union bargaining committee, said Tuesday's negotiating sessions, the last held, were "entirely fruitless." He added:

"There is yet no single sign that management takes seriously the orders of the governor and the public Utilities Commission to settle down to serious bargaining."

Thernes said "all the concessions made to date have been made by the union."

The union representative also said that the company has formally rejected a union plan to provide emergency telephone service to Portsmouth as well as the union offer to arbitrate issues blocking a settlement.

Closing of telephone exchanges in Portsmouth and surrounding Scioto County Oct. 15 followed crowd demonstrations in front of the exchanges.

Meanwhile, Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William D. Radcliffe issued an injunction limiting to two the number of pickets allowed at each entrance to the company's exchange building in Circleville.

The court order also forbids pickets from interfering with authorized personnel entering or leaving the building and specifies that pickets be from Pickaway County.

In Cincinnati, a National Labor Relations Board spokesman said the NLRB is nearing the end of hearings on company charges that the union has engaged in unfair labor practices.

The spokesman said investigators have interviewed 15 company employees and will move to Portsmouth next week to hear the union's side of the case.

SALESMAN SHOT TO DEATH

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A 34-year-old used car salesman was fatally shot Thursday night in a restaurant across the street from the victim was identified as Edward Alexander of Portsmouth.

Police said they were holding for investigation Ruth Rutherford, 29, of Portsmouth, manager of the A&C Restaurant where the shooting occurred. They said Miss Rutherford told them the shooting was accidental.

AGES ADULT INOCULATION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With young youngsters immunized, this probably will be more like contact polio than children know on, says Dr. Frederick Wentworth, chief of the communicable diseases division of the health department. He urged every day that grownups under 35 wear vaccine shots from their when courses.

Government Cost Of Living Index Is Subject Of Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of they should or shouldn't spend living has a triple significance today.

Since it started rising last March after a long period of moving sideways it quickly became a table topic in many a home. And the cost of living index means much to millions of workers because their pay scales are tied to its up and down movements. But today the index especially interests the politicians. They hope to make some last minute hay out of it.

The index is actually the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index, but popularly it is accepted as measuring trends in the cost of living.

It has been widely assailed by critics who doubt if it reflects accurately the cost of living for most folk, or if it is authoritative enough for age scales to depend upon it.

Some complain that on its list of items supposedly purchased by middle income city dwellers are many luxuries and goods bought sparingly, if at all, by many families.

Critics claim the index uses list prices instead of discount or bargain sales prices. A smart shopper, they say, can do better.

And they charge that the persons who sample the prices around the country do so at times of the week or month when prices are normally higher. Example: Food items are priced at the first of the week instead of on weekends when food bargains are pushed.

The Labor Department's BLS as answers for these criticisms.

It says the goods and service on its list are the things that people actually spend money for. BLS isn't interested in whether these are luxuries or not—whether

Jet Shoots Itself Down By Running Into Own Shells

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Evening Sun said today a new Navy jet F11F1 fighter, flying at supersonic speed, shot itself down by running into cannon shells it had fired seconds before.

In a story by Donald Bremner, the paper quoted the Navy in Washington that the fantastic accident — first of its type in aviation history — occurred last month while a test pilot was test firing new 20-mm. cannons over the Atlantic Ocean near Long Island.

The article said the jet crash landed in a woods a half mile short of the field and that the pilot was injured.

Bremner said the Navy gave this probable explanation of the accident:

When the stream of cannon shells spewed from the four guns at the rate of 1,000-rounds-per minute, or better than 64 rounds for each four-second burst, they were traveling more than 1,500-feet-per second faster than the airplane.

But they immediately began to slow down because of air resistance and to fall from the firing path because of gravity, so that they were following a curved course toward the ocean.

The jet meanwhile went into a slightly steeper dive and about 2 to 3 miles from the point where the firing began, the plane and the spent shells arrived at the same point and collided.

No live ammunition was used in the test.

The Athletic Spirit

It is encouraging to note that Salem and Lisbon high schools may renew their football relationship next year.

It was encouraging, too, to watch Salem High students last night as they held a pre-game pep rally at Reilly field. The enthusiasm of the students, faculty and townspeople generally lends solid support to any team, whether it be football or basketball.

The "esprit de corps" at the high school — faculty and students alike — usually pays off in championships when the going gets tough. Without the solid support of the fans the whole athletic program suffers. It becomes a feeble gesture.

There seems to be no logical reason either for Salem and Lisbon not being able to gear their schedules so that a game between the two schools can be played next season. Let's put excuses in the past and play the game for what it's worth.

The Killer's Pledge

We submit this for adoption by all automobile drivers who take dangerous and unnecessary risks on the highways:

"Whereas, I recognize that I am a potential danger to the life of everyone who comes within the scope of my determined influence, and that my indifferent attitude toward the safety and welfare of others, as well as myself, is the greatest menace abroad in our land today; And, whereas, I know, with a degree of certainty, that the time will come, whether in the center of daytime congestion, or in the still and lonely hours of a night-time foray, when my utter disregard for the written laws of man and the natural laws of mankind, will snuff out with devastating suddenness, for one or more human beings, the right and the will to live;

"And, whereas, I admit, within the quietness of my inner-consciousness, that I am a fool-hardy dreg on society, a committed addict to the dastardly disease of arrogance and false-pride, mentally intent to range the highways and byways of my community, a killer bent on destruction of my fellowman;

"Now, therefore, I hereby pledge that when I next look through my windshield and see death looming before me, I shall make every possible effort to avoid involving those other than myself in a tangled wreckage of humanity, that they may continue safely to their homes and families, uninjured and unharmed, while I, alone, lie dead at the side of the road; thus, proving in the only way I am capable of proving that I am a skillful driver."

No Hurry About Poland

In the hoped-for course of events, a political shakeup in Poland taking it even a little distance out of the Soviet Union's sphere of influence would open the American cash drawer.

But until it has been proved that what is happening in Poland is in the hoped-for course of events, there should be no hurry about foreign aid. Whatever the Poles are trying to do or are capable of doing cannot be determined yet.

There is plenty of circumstantial evidence that they are dissatisfied with their lot as satellites of the Soviet Union. But there is no evidence, circumstantial or otherwise, that their political shakeup is the real thing.

Politics is pretty much the same the world over; only the names are changed to protect the guilty.

Here in the United States, one of the ways to quiet down a restless multitude muttering with dissatisfaction is to stage a shakeup for its effect on popular opinion. There is a general reshuffling of the same old familiar faces wearing new political labels. Subsequently, when the effect of the shakeup has run its course, the same old shakedown starts again.

For the sake of all the Poles in Poland who want to be independent of the Soviet Union and of all the Poles in the United States who want Poland to be independent, we hope the Gomulka regime is a bona fide breakaway from the Kremlin.

If it is just another flareup of Titoism in a new quarter, however, cheers will be restrained. Titoism is not anti-Communist. It is merely anti-Stralin.

A pleasant smile always goes a long way and has a pleasant habit of coming back.

A thug in Ohio jumped from an alley, hit a man with a stone and took his wallet. Rock 'n' roll!

The easiest way to speed up accidents that overtake you is to drive too fast.

Sometimes we wish a barber would make a double charge for men who always have a long face.

It's too bad that some folks have to wind up broke before they realize the value of money.

H-Bomb Shift

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Stevenson Unwittingly Entrapped By Own Words

Adlai Stevenson has switched his strategy somewhat from insisting on a ban of H-bomb tests to a new kind of test. He says, in effect, now that all he wants to do is to test the sincerity of the Communists.

For many years the United States has been testing the sincerity of the Communists and has found it wanting.

The idea of risking the security of America now, while calling it merely a test of sincerity of the Communist government, is something that can only bring down on the Democrats again the charge heard in 1952 that they are "soft on communism."

This is a course that can lead to political suicide in a campaign in which the electorate has certainly no sympathy for communism in any form. The voters have learned painfully the lessons of Communist aggression in Korea and infiltration elsewhere.

Mr. Stevenson has been going up and down the country denouncing Vice President Nixon as "the darling of the reactionaries."

Now the tables are turned, and ever since the Bulganin letter to President Eisenhower, brazenly praising Mr. Stevenson's proposal to ban H-bomb tests, the retort is heard that Mr. Stevenson has become the "darling of the Communists."

IT WAS A FOOLISH thing for Mr. Stevenson to allow himself to get into the position of supporting the Communist side of the argument in the midst of a presidential campaign. The record shows the Communists made their proposal several times before Mr. Stevenson took it up. All the facts were available to him in the newspaper files.

The President stated the whole case in a single paragraph:

"In this cause of world peace, one truth must never be lost from sight. It is this: The critical issue is not a matter of testing nuclear weapons — but of preventing their use in nuclear war."

"America has repeatedly stated its readiness, indeed its anxiety, to put all nuclear weapons permanently aside — to stop all tests of such weapons — to devote some of our huge expenditures for armament to the greater cause of mankind's welfare — to do all these things whenever, and as soon as, one basic requirement is met."

"This requirement is that we, as a nation, and all peoples, know safety from attack."

Mr. Eisenhower told in detail of the eleven years of negotiation and effort by the United States government to reach an agreement with the Soviet government on disarmament.

HE REVEALED that the Soviets had consistently refused to look at the situation as a whole and had repeatedly insisted on a ban of H-bombs or a ban on atomic tests, irrespective of any regulation of other weapons or of any system of mutual inspection that would be foolproof.

The President said: "There is only one reason why no safe agreement has been effected to date: The refusal of the Soviet Union to accept any dependable system of mutual safeguards."

Yet Mr. Stevenson and Speaker Rayburn give the impression that efforts to negotiate have not been made and that the Democratic presidential nominee, if elected, would have some peculiar influence with the Soviets to make them agree to something they have consistently refused to agree to for more than a decade.

President Eisenhower now has given chapter and verse, demolishing every point in the Stevenson argument and at the same time emphasizing official facts which completely contradict the statements of a few scientists here and there who are not familiar with the official data but have risen to Mr. Stevenson's support in an attempt to confuse the issue.

INDEED, THERE ARE some Stevenson sympathizers who are saying there isn't really any difference between Mr. Eisenhower's effort to test the sincerity of the Communists at Geneva in 1954 and the proposal now to test the sincerity of the Communists by halting H-bomb tests and waiting to see what happens.

The true difference is that at the Geneva Conference there was only a talk, which hurts nobody. There was no risk taken in which the strength of the United States in nuclear weapons would be reduced. Mr. Stevenson in April 1956 was ready to try a costly gamble with American security.

The President in his comprehensive statement also disposed of many phony claims about "fall out." Incidentally, he made Mrs. Roosevelt's curious speech of Tuesday, about how "fall out" from continued atomic tests can destroy the human race, look a bit silly.

He referred pointedly to the report last June of an independent body — the National Academy of Sciences — which, after study by 150 scientists of the first rank, declared that the radiation exposure to date and from continuing tests at the same rate for many years in the future would be "only a small fraction of the exposure individuals receive from natural sources and from medical X-rays during their lives."

BUT MOST SWEEPING of all was the official revelation by the President that the preparation of H-bomb tests sometimes takes a year or more and that, if we stopped the tests, "We could find our present commanding lead in nuclear weapons erased or even reversed."

When will those sensible, fair-minded leaders in the Democratic party who may have some influence with Mr. Stevenson tell him to drop the issue of H-bomb tests and stop building up the prestige of Bulganin and the Communist leaders at a time when the peoples of Poland and Hungary are striving to free themselves from the yoke of the Communist dictators?

If one issue above all others should have been left out of this campaign, it was the Soviet scheme to get America to ban H-bomb tests unconditionally.

'Then I Said When You Said That I Said . . .'

Nixon's Top Campaigner

By JAMES Y. NEWTON

Nearly everyone aboard the "Dick Nixon Special," a refurbished DC-6, agrees that Richard M. Nixon is a skillful, indefatigable, and probably effective, campaigner.

But you can start an argument in our "cabin in the sky" simply by saying that Dick is the best campaigner in the Nixon family.

There are those among the 25 reporters following the Nixons around the country who will argue that the Nixon best at the business of winning friends and influencing people for the Republican party is the Mrs. Nixon, the friendly, effervescent, bright-eyed Pat. And they have material to support the point.

The vice president, beating his way across country from one political rally to another, seldom closes a speech without telling the crowd that the best campaigner in his party is his wife. When he says that he isn't kidding.

Pat complements her articulate husband beautifully. When Dick, worn-out by his grueling schedule, seems to treat a local politician and his wife brutally, Pat is right there to fill the breach. Numerous times in such situations this reporter has seen her step up and engage the couple in friendly conversation. It does wonders.

It is a source of amazement to reporters that Pat, up before dawn and to bed at midnight, with a dozen public appearances and hand-shaking affairs between, is able at all times to maintain her relaxed, calm approach. And despite the fact she lives out of a suitcase for as much as two weeks at a time, her appearance always is perfectly groomed, never rumpled like the men around her.

Mr. Nixon has never lost a campaign and Pat has been at his side through every one. On top of that she accompanied him on a lengthy, round-the-world good-will tour in 1953 and another to Latin America last year. The vice president proudly boasts in all that time she has never missed an appearance, never been sick a day.

On campaign tour stops she always leaves the plane with her husband, stands beside him and shakes hands with numerous party leaders, accepts the inevitable bouquet, entertains little girls and boys, and frequently holds a news conference with women reporters.

She rules out political questions at her press conferences, although she talks readily about her home and two little girls, and her travels about the country and world with her husband.

Pat is always on the speakers platform and she always seems to listen with rapt attention to the remarks of Dick, most of which she has heard countless times before.

One inevitably wonders whether she is as attentive as she appears to be during her husband's speeches. So the other day high over the Rockies while Pat was making one of her neighborly visits with newsmen a reporter asked her if she ever got tired listening to Dick speak? No, indeed, she replied, quite the contrary.

"Dick never memorizes a speech," she went on to explain. "He has a basic speech, of course, but in delivering it he always manages to get in a twist or local adaptation to fit the audience."

"I enjoy listening to him. I am always curious to find out who's cooking, and to see what he is going to come up with next."

Shortly before the plane had left Elko, Nev., about as isolated a spot as one could imagine, the temperature was at freezing and snow was on the hills around.

Mrs. Nixon, who was born at Ely, Nev., spoke of how she loved the west, its mountains and its people. She said she was sorry they couldn't spend more time in Elko, "The people were so friendly and all." She could be happy in a town like that.

Pat said she didn't remember her birthplace, Ely, because she was just an infant when her folks moved to California. Her father was a gold miner at the time.

"I don't know about it first hand, but I have been told that in those days Ely was a tent city," Mrs. Nixon said. "Maybe I was born in a tent."

As she returned to the Nixon quarters in the back of the plane, a reporter remarked that regardless of where she was born, Pat would always be gracious to people whether in a tent or drawing room.

Twilight Zone Of Trade?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U) — Turmoil in Poland sets American businessmen to wondering today if a new twilight zone of world trade may be in the making.

While they wait to see how things turn out in Poland and in Hungary — whether these and other Communist lands join Yugoslavia in squirming out at least partially, from under the Kremlin's thumb — Western businessmen weigh the chances of a boost in the near future to the already slowly reviving East-West trade.

First reaction came on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday where grain futures advanced smartly on the chance that a more independent Poland might become eligible for American aid in the form of surplus farm products.

Movement of American surpluses into world markets has increased sharply this year. The Agriculture Department reports agreements signed for the sale of surplus commodities come to a total commercial export value of 1½ billion dollars. (They originally cost the government 2½ billion under its price support program.) Wheat and flour lead feed grains, rice, cotton and fats and oils in these government directed export movements.

But private cotton shippers have exported nearly one million bales since Aug. 1, which is about three times as much as in the same period a year ago. Some expect these exports to top 5 million bales by next August, compared with the 2½ million that moved into world trade in the previous seasons.

Private shippers buy surplus cotton at cut prices to sell overseas at world price levels, which are lower than the support price here.

Businessmen, however, are looking beyond farm surpluses when they discuss the chance — however "ifty" it may be now — of a pickup in East-West trade.

Americans recognize that tight curbs on trade with Red Russia and Red China will continue. But if the eastern European nations break away from Moscow domination, there is at least an off chance of a twilight zone of increased trade. These nations presumably would remain Communist like Yugoslavia and not notably friendly to the United States, but trade with them might seem more desirable than it has while they were doing Russia's every bidding.

A U. S. government report shows that East-West trade rose by about one fourth last year. The increase in buying from the Red nation was considerably greater than that in selling to them.

Exports by western nations to those in the Communist sphere topped two billion dollars, a gain of 15 per cent over 1954. Imports from the Reds came to nearly 2½ billion dollars, a gain of 32 per cent.

Worthy 'Trick or Treat' Stunt
To The News: "Trick or treat" time is here again with the approach of Halloween. I feel that the children will benefit more and also avoid upset stomachs if they would make door-to-door solicitations at Halloween time for such worthy causes as the cancer fund, heart fund, polio, etc.

I'm sure that adults would respond gladly.
We can all play "trick or treat" for the good of mankind if parents let their children perform a civic function instead of collecting an oversupply of candy which often times makes them ill.

So They Say

I knew most of them (convicted Brink's robbers) at the old Charlestown State Prison. They'll be all right. They're real pros, not punks. —Perley Vance, deputy warden of Massachusetts State Prison at Walpole, where eight Brink's bandits will serve life terms.

There isn't a single one of them (in the cabinet) who hasn't inherited his money and hasn't gone through the mill. —Treasury Secretary Humphrey on Democratic "millionaire" cabinet charges.

I may disagree violently with his (Adlai Stevenson's) ideas. But since I am such a plain talker, I admire a fellow who can use good words. —Vice President Richard Nixon.

Once Over

Show Business Romance

Phil Silvers, musical comedy and TV comedian and Evelyn Patrick were married the other day. The bride is the eye-filling hostess and commercial deliverer on "864,000 Question." Do you suppose that the justice of the peace who tied the knot followed his question "Do you take this man, etc?" with "Do you wish to answer now or come back next week?"

Evelyn came out of Orlando, Fla., only two years ago to achieve fame on the big jackpot program. Silvers' latest venture is the Sergeant Bilko airwave show. They were married in the little village of Woodbridge, Conn., which has the quiet of a soundproof booth. Their category obviously was "Broadway Romances." Both gave the right answers, with no competition from Gino Prato, something pretty unusual in the "864,000 Question" format.

THE ROUTINE could have run along this line:

Phil—Want to take an auto ride into the country? You have fifteen seconds to answer.

Evelyn—What part of the country?
Phil—Into beautiful, picturesque, unspoiled Connecticut.

Evelyn—That's a commercial and you forget that I generally do them. Yes, I'd like to go.
Phil—Correct and you win a round trip on the Merritt Parkway. Now to question number two: Name the most romantic military man of the day and hour.

Evelyn—Sergeant Bilko.

Phil—Somebody prompted you, but I'll accept that answer. Question three: Identify the object of the sergeant's affection.

Evelyn—Let me think.

Phil—Don't be coy. This brings us to the big question which has been in the vault of the Manufacturers' Trust and has never been heard by more than a billion people throughout history. The question is in two parts. One—Will be my wife? Two—How soon?

Evelyn—I don't want to make a mistake here, so will take a few seconds. May I answer the second part first?

Phil—Yes.

Evelyn—The answer to that part is right away.

Phil—That answers the first part! The next question is whether to phone a justice of the peace in Woodbridge or New York. Do you wish to go ahead?

Evelyn—What can I lose? Even if I quit I get a Cadillac, don't I?
(Take it from here.)

Lausche, Bender Continue Blasts

Will Appear Jointly Before Cleveland Club

By The Associated Press
Ohio's two senatorial candidates, Republican incumbent George H. Bender and five-term Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, continued their skirmishing in northern Ohio today. Saturday they will appear jointly before the City Club in Cleveland, their home town.

Bender stayed in the Cleveland area today after an appearance before party workers in Westlake Thursday night in which he asked, "How stupid can any Republican be?" if he votes for Lausche.

Lausche went to Massillon for a dinner meeting, after appearing in Toledo Thursday night on a television program with Michael V. DiSalle, the Democratic candidate for governor. Lausche gave DiSalle his enthusiastic backing, declaring he would "gladly and proudly" cast his vote for the Toledoan.

C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for governor, after an appearance at a student rally in Cleveland Heights high school, remained in Cleveland today for the opening of the annual Attorney General's Crime Conference.

Bender frequently has said that Lausche woos Republican votes by being a part-time Republican. His remark about "how stupid can any Republican be?" came after he learned that Lausche had ridden on the presidential campaign train of Adlai Stevenson and had given Stevenson a hearty endorsement. Bender also asked his listeners in Westlake why they supposed President Eisenhower paid a campaign visit to Ohio—he was in Cleveland Oct. 1—and such other states as Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York.

Answering his own question, Bender said, "He's doing it to speak for a senator of his own party."

Lausche discussed his political beliefs Thursday night and underlined his often expressed opinion that no public official should let himself be dominated by "lobbyists," or by "political bosses."

He said that if he is elected to the Senate he will be the people's "lobbyist" in Washington, and "constantly keep in mind my responsibility to the people of the state."

He declared he would "fight for your rights and will fight those trying to exploit you."

DiSalle's television program, which included Lausche as a special guest, also featured the Toledo candidate's wife, four daughters and son.

DiSalle also issued a statement from his party headquarters to the subject of sports, recreational facilities and parks.

He praised what he called "the great expansion of our public park system during the past few years," especially near the metropolitan areas. But he said "we still need many more and should not delay buying land which becomes more expensive every day."

He declared that, at present, too many of Ohio's lakes and streams are inaccessible because adjacent lands are privately owned, and too many are suffering from industrial pollution.

O'Neill told the high school students to get into politics while they still were young. He said "we need you in both parties" to "push over the old hacks with lesser ability—followers, not leaders."

He said he got into public life "not through any politician, but because our debating teacher got under my skin—had something a little inspirational about him."

Bender issued a brief statement Thursday night saying the Democrats had failed to follow up work he had begun as chairman of a congressional subcommittee to investigate labor racketeering.

Contained in the statement was a sentence that "I am happy to have the support of every good citizen." He also said he has the support of the American Federation of Labor in this campaign.

These references apparently were his answer to a series of remarks which Lausche and Thomas A. Burke, the Democratic candidate whom Bender defeated by 3,000 votes in 1954, made about Bender and a "labor leader." The latter apparently was William Presser, head of the Teamsters Council, a part of the state AFL.

Work Completed On County Road Projects

LISBON — Work has been completed this year by the county highway department on 157.48 miles of county and township roads.

The projects include 30.75 miles of oil treated roads, 49.71 miles of blade mix treads and 77.03 miles of surface treated road. The department used 1,054,221 gallons of tar and 38,545 tons of slag to complete the projects.

Township roads totaled 109.96 miles and county roads, 47.53 miles.

In March the township trustees made their requests for roads to be resurfaced and on April 30 the Columbiana County Commissioners let a contract to the Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. of Canton to furnish the material on its bid of $207,846.70.

Work on the 157.49 miles of roads began May 24 and was completed Oct. 25, according to Charles Snyder, county engineer.

About 3,000 tons of plant-mixed cold patch was applied by the townships.

County equipment and manpower were used to apply all the material except the cold patch mix.

New York Union Official Murdered

BABYLON N. Y. (AP)—Police say a union official at first believed to have died of natural causes was murdered.

Edward J. Murtha, 52, business agent of the Suffolk Council of The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, was found dead Thursday in his office. Police said it was assumed death resulted from natural causes.

Later, an autopsy verified the report of an undertaker that Murtha had three bullet wounds in the head.

Authorities said Murtha's union was not involved in any current labor difficulties and thus far they have been unable to uncover a motive for the slaying. Murtha's body was found by a union employee. Murtha is survived by his widow Anne, and a son, Vincent.

Ike Continues To Lead In Polls

However Stevenson Shows Some Gains

By The Associated Press
President Eisenhower is still top man in poll after poll with the presidential election 11 days away.

Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, showed some gains.

The New York Daily News, supporting Eisenhower for re-election, said its poll shows Eisenhower leading Stevenson 3-2 in New York State.

Latest returns: Eisenhower 59.7 per cent, Stevenson 40.3.

A week ago the News poll gave Eisenhower 60.4 per cent to 39.6 for Stevenson.

Eisenhower won New York's 45 electoral votes in 1952 with 56 per cent of the popular vote.

The latest California Poll, published by the Los Angeles Mirror-News, gave these results in a state-wide sampling: Eisenhower 49 per cent; Stevenson 44 per cent, and, undecided, 7 per cent. This was a 2-point gain for the Democrats since the last poll a month ago.

Eisenhower still led in a poll of Indiana's "weathervane" Vanderburgh County, which has voted for the winner in every election since 1896, though Stevenson gained there for the third straight week.

A poll conducted in the county by the Evansville Press gave Eisenhower 60.6 per cent and Stevenson 39.4, a loss of .6 per cent for the President.

An over-all gain for Eisenhower in New Jersey was reported by professional pollster Kenneth Fink. His figures as of Oct. 18 were: Eisenhower 52.6 per cent; Stevenson 45; undecided 2.4.

As of Sept. 26, Fink's figures were: Eisenhower, 53.4; Stevenson, 43.4; undecided 3.2.

In Omaha, radio station KFAB this week asked listeners to telephone or mail their preference. The vote: Eisenhower 2,042. Stevenson 1,062.

A Denver Post poll last weekend of Colorado gave Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 38; undecided 7.

The Lansing (Mich.) State Journal, Republican independent, continuing a poll of various occupation groups, sampled opinion of farmers at grain elevators, a farm auction and at Farm Bureau meetings. It reported 378 farmers for Eisenhower and 50 for Stevenson.

icans found "a number of old ideas for whose energetic application the American people had waited all too long."

He listed reduction of federal spending, taxes and unemployment among these.

Without mentioning Stevenson by name, he said his opponents were singing "a strange, sad song about a weak and fearful America." This was "fantastically different" from actual conditions, he added.

After the Madison Square Garden speech, Eisenhower flew back to Washington.

"the beginning of the path to a good farm policy."

"We must try to keep the prices of perishable products—including livestock prices—at fair levels," he said, "and we must do this by methods that benefit the farmer, not just the packer and processor."

"We must strengthen the soil conservation service under sound leadership. We must not let rural electrification wither for want of a reliable supply of electricity at low cost."

He said other goals include a "fair break on credit" for the farmer and "adequate and sympathetic help" for him in times of drought.

"Mr. Eisenhower is, I am sure, a well-meaning man," Stevenson said at one point. "But indifference and ignorance can be as damaging as ill will."

"If the President doesn't realize the hardship his policies are causing—if he thinks farmers are doing well—if he thinks that farmers have a 'liberal' supply of credit—then he just doesn't know what's going on. And that won't be the first time either."

"And if what he says is not transparent hypocrisy, then I guess that's the hard truth of the matter—the President just doesn't know what's going on."

Potters Union Names Clawges Vice President

Walter E. (Buck) Clawges of Trenton, N.J., has been elected first vice president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, filling the post left vacant when E. L. Wheatley was named president, the IBOP announced today.

An official canvass of returns from balloting Oct. 16 shows Clawges won by a wide margin over Robert T. Haggerty, also of Trenton, the union announced.

Clawges had been acting as first vice president since Wheatley was moved up to president following the retirement of Frank Hull in March. Clawges formerly was a formerly fourth vice president.

Clawges' successor as fourth vice president will be named by the union executive board, comprised of the international officers.

Haggerty also ran unsuccessfully against Wheatley for the president's post. He captured the second highest vote total in primaries for both posts, entitling him to a ballot place in the runoff election. The unexpired term runs to Aug. 1, 1957.

A charter member of Local 175 in Trenton, Clawges was appointed fourth vice president in 1952 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Robert Hannah. He also was named an international organizer. He was elected to a full term in 1953 and re-elected in 1955.

Clawges went to work as a potter when he was 19. A caster, he was with the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. for 20 years. As first vice president, he is in charge of the IBOP's east coast headquarters in Trenton.

The returns were tabulated by a canvassing committee comprised of John Ehrhart of Salem, Ted Jones of Sebring and Cyril Plant of East Liverpool.

are below the national average of factory workers. It said many East Liverpool district potters are working only half-time.

The IBOP said it seeks to change many clauses in the contract "especially having to do with division of work beyond a reasonable point; abuses now prevailing by employers scheduling any number of hours per week over a six-day week to prevent the payment of overtime, and abuses that occur under the temporary and apprentice provisions using shutdown periods for vacations four to seven months after vacation checks have been paid."

The flash walkout, which management termed unauthorized, idled some 40 kilnpressers and about 60 pressers, dippers and other employees.

The walkout apparently started at a gloom kiln when some members of the crew failed to appear for work this morning, company officials said.

A similar walkout which started Sept. 10 idled some 4,300 at three major plants before an agreement was reached with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

vanced with only Hungarian flags and no weapons.

Budapest resembled a city at war, with gaping and blackened wounds in its buildings, and debris strewn in its streets.

The news that Russian and Hungarian troops had launched the all-out attack was the last report received from inside the embattled city from Associated Press Correspondent Andre Marton before his temporary telegraphic communications were broken early today.

Without Telephone Connections

The capital on the Danube was without telephone connections to the outside world.

The Austrian Railway Administration said all train traffic to Hungary had been halted, with workers reported on strike. Danube shipping also had been stopped. There were no plane connections between Budapest and Vienna.

An Austrian coming across the border at Nickelsdorf said he saw Russian soldiers fire on about 100 Hungarian demonstrators at the small town of Magyarosvar, about 10 miles from the border, when the Hungarians attempted to tear down a Soviet flag. Many were killed and wounded, he added.

An Austrian border official said Hungarian farmers had revolted near Sopron and had been put down by Soviet reinforcements.

Red army tanks and troops were reported in action in many other places, including the major cities of Gyoeer, Szeged, Szolnok and Pecs.

Communists were in firm control of the Budapest radio, from which most reports of developments came.

Before the beginning of the all-out attack, Hungary's new Red premier, Imre Nagy, who claims to pursue an independent course from Moscow, vainly urged Thursday that the rebels to give up their arms. He especially appealed to young workers and members of the Hungarian armed forces.

He promised to negotiate with Moscow for withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary and to give the people a new deal in all sectors of the national life if the rebellion were ended.

But a special correspondent of the Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borda who entered Budapest Thursday sent word back that tanks seemed to be "taking aim at every house" and yet "could not be said to be commanding the situation."

He said he passed "numberless columns of tanks" on his way to the capital and met school children demonstrating at Szeged.

Western monitors in Vienna said they picked up faint broadcasts apparently coming from a transmitter operated by the Hungarian rebels.

Called For General Strike

The transmitter which repeatedly changes its wavelength called on Hungarian workers to go on general strike. It also demanded the release of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and his reinstatement as Catholic primate of Hungary.

The station called itself "Freedom Radio of the Hungarian People."

AP Correspondent Andre Marton managed to file Thursday night his first dispatch from the Hungarian capital since Tuesday night.

It was a graphic eyewitness account of Russian tanks firing on Hungarian demonstrators, bodies lying in the street, and of damage in the city where he said a state of war existed.

16-Year-Old Girl Stabbed To Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old Columbus girl was stabbed to death Thursday night after arguing with a man on a north side street. Police identified the victim as Joyce Ann Dixon.

Fred Allen Whitford, 40, was arrested by police for questioning. Both he and the girl are Negroes, police said.

Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans said Miss Dixon suffered nine stab wounds in the chest, chin and arms.

Police said she argued with a man for several blocks and that after being stabbed she staggered 75 feet and collapsed on the sidewalk. Her attacker fled in a car.

Cardinal Mindszenty Reported Released

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian primate imprisoned for life on treason charges in 1949, is reported to have been freed from prison early last month and to be living in a small village near the Austro-Hungarian border.

This report was received by Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, from the Rev. Joseph Vecsey, an intimate friend of the cardinal who lives in Vienna, Austria.

Dr. Shuster said the priest in turn had received his information through a "a privately established grapevine" tested numerous times and always found to be a channel of accurate information.

Other details received were that the cardinal has not been pardoned but is free to walk about the village, Szomor, and talk privately with the people although he is allowed no visitors and cannot leave the town.

Daylight Saving Time Ends Sunday Morning

By The Associated Press

Daylight saving time ends Sunday for about 40 million Americans, mostly in the Northeast.

Other sections of the country which had used "fast time" during the summer went back to standard time a month ago. These areas have a population of about 15 million.

Most of New England extended DST an extra month two years ago. The plan was adopted by additional states and localities last year and continued this year.

The official hour for the clock changing is 2 a.m. Sunday, when the time should be moved back to 1 a.m. Doubtless most people will do it Saturday night before retiring.

States and localities going back to standard time Sunday are:

New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, most of Pennsylvania, the St. Louis metropolitan area, Chicago and other Illinois metropolitan sections, parts of Virginia adjacent to Washington, D. C., the District of Columbia itself and some parts of Indiana and Delaware.

Richard L. Bland, 23, of East Liverpool, who also asked for probation had his case continued or the burglary of the American Pool Room in East Liverpool June 2, 1956. He pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 22 and asked for probation.

Business Breakfast

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone has the campaign a little harder—the three-hour business luncheon, but some tycoons now are going in for two-hour business breakfasts.

One of them is William Zeckendorf, head of a real estate firm which hires 70 architects and now has on its drafting boards building projects valued at a billion dollars.

To keep tab on his sprawling enterprises in the United States and Canada, Zeckendorf summons his executives once a week to a breakfast conference in the firm's Madison Avenue penthouse office.

I attended one of these unusual sessions recently, and here's how it went.

Zeckendorf, a tank-sized man and a dozen or so of his top aides bristled waded through platters of ham and eggs and steaming cups of coffee. The aids had pads of yellow paper and sharpened pencils before them. Zeckendorf had a silver bell and an ivory telephone.

After a little desultory talk on politics—Zeckendorf wasn't sure Eisenhower was "the right President for me" unless he pitched into AIR - INFLATED — Lollipop-shaped balloon, above, developed for the Air Force by Westinghouse, is a new radar antenna, considered a major breakthrough in the design of ground electronics equipment. The 30-foot-high, lightweight, air-inflated balloon can be put together or dismantled by nine men in a matter of hours.

"No body is to get his feelings hurt," After it turned out Rose's plan for an amusement area would cost more than a million, Zeckendorf said:

"I don't want to poor boy this. To do less than the ultimate is to do nothing — to ruin your reputation."

The quarrel between Rose and Silverstone went on for more than an hour, each arguing vehemently as Zeckendorf appeared to back first one, then the other.

The waiter passed around a box of 60-cent cigars. I took one. By then Zeckendorf had decided Rose and Silverstone should go ahead with Rose's plan. He also endorsed the suggestion to add a double-deck parking lot.

"You see we get something done at these breakfasts, don't you?" said Zeckendorf genially. "And we aren't bothered by the telephone."

As I left I remarked to an executive that I had never before seen a million dollars spent over a breakfast.

"Oh," he said, "you only saw the first round. This will come up at least half a dozen more times before we really decide what we'll do."

The one sure thing about the breakfast business conference seems to be this: It gives tycoons a chance to get their ulcers activated earlier in the day.

Lopez Is No. 1 Candidate For White Sox Manager's Post

Marion Quits Under Pressure

Sox Also To Ask 4 Coaches To Resign

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a wave of speculation today as to Marty Marion's successor as manager of the Chicago White Sox but the No. 1 candidate appeared to be Al Lopez.

Marion resigned Thursday after a conference at Comiskey Park with Vice President Chuck Comiskey and other Sox brass.

"They were not happy with my work," said Marty, who moved up from the Sox coaching ranks to replace Paul Richards as Sox skipper Sept. 14, 1954.

There was little doubt that the 39-year-old former St. Louis Cardinal star shortstop stepped down under pressure.

"There were some statements made during the season by Chuck Comiskey that 'White Sox material was excellent' and that I was doing a 'creditable job,'" said Marion. "Their remarks always were just lukewarm. They never gave me a solid vote of confidence. Actually, I believe I did a good job (the Sox finished third both years under Marion). In fact, I'm proud of the job I did."

Marion, who was the 13th Sox manager since the club last won the pennant in 1919, said he had no definite plans but wanted to remain in baseball. He left Chicago immediately for his St. Louis home.

Marion agreed to resign only after he was assured he would be paid in full for the year remaining in his contract—paid even if he lands another job.

The Sox also will request that all four of Marion's coaches resign—Ray Berres, Don Gutteridge, Del Wilber and George Myatt.

Comiskey said that "at least six or seven fellows" will be considered for the job and while Lopez, who resigned last month as pilot of the Cleveland Indians, would be given consideration he is not necessarily the leading candidate.

"Lopez has class and has proved his ability as manager," said Comiskey.

Other names bandied about were Eddie Stanky, one time skipper of the Cardinals and recently dismissed as manager of the Minneapolis Millers; Jimmy Dykes, who led the Sox for 13 years and is now a coach for the Cincinnati Redlegs; and Kerby Farrell, who guided the Indianapolis Indians, the new farm club of the White Sox to the American Assn. pennant.

There also was speculation that Marion, a favorite of Frank Lane, now general manager of the Cardinals, would switch jobs with the Redbirds' manager, Fred Hutchinson. He managed the Cards in 1951. There also was talk that Marion may wind up in Cleveland with general manager Hank Greenberg, who always has had high regards for Marty. Marion came to the American League in 1952 as manager of the old St. Louis Browns, and stayed there two years, going to the Sox as a coach.

"As for Marion," Comiskey said, "I, personally, believe he should have done better. But I'm not going to cite anything specific and start second guessing every move he made. We had enough of that around here for a few years. Maybe the next manager can do better and maybe not. We'll have to see."

Landy Still Undecided On Entering Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—John Landy, the world's best miler against a clock, is racing against time again.

With less than a month to go before the 1956 Olympic Games open, Landy still is undecided about entering. He's been hobbled by a foot injury and has done little competitive running since his last successful assault on the 4-minute mile in the United States last summer.

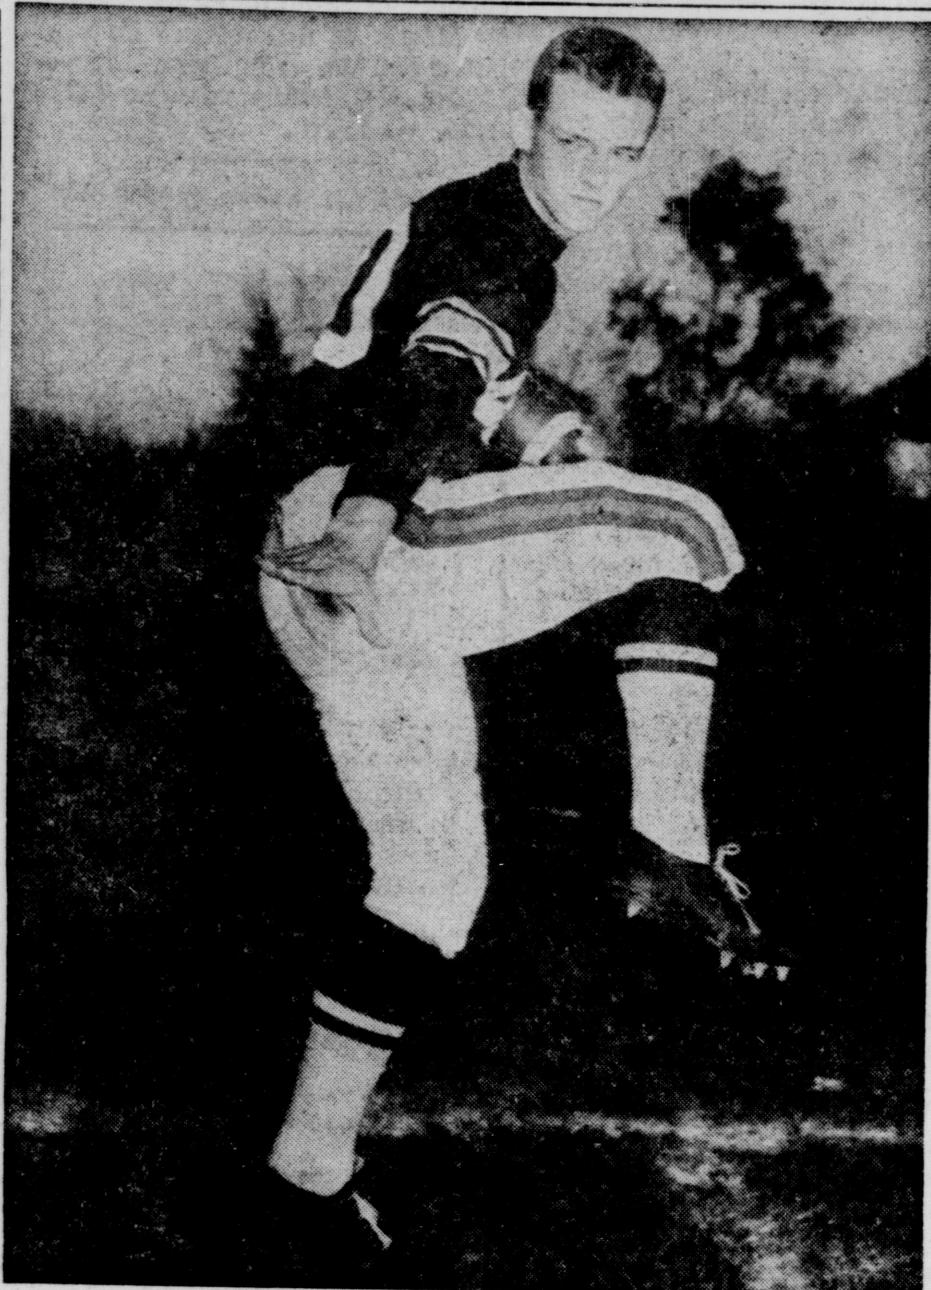

Brused heel tendons scratched Landy, holder of the 3.58 mile record from the Australian Olympic track trials but he was named to the team in both the 1,500 and 5,000.

Landy needs trial competition now that he is able to run again. But these trials on which he'll base his decision of whether to enter the games, were banned early in the week by Sir William Bridgeford, executive director of the games.

The ban, set to prevent a "thousand little Olympic Games in the month ahead," was met by strong protests from Australian and British runners. Thursday the ban was lifted giving Landy his chance.

SCORES IN EVERY GAME—Bob Peet, Leetonia's right halfback, has scored in every one of his teams seven games this year. He is averaging more than eight yards per carry.

Peet One of Leetonia's Most Versatile Stars

By GORDON ARNDT

The dictionary defines versatility as . . . ability along many lines of effort. For a football player to be considered versatile, he would have to show adeptness at both offense and defense, and such is the case of the Leetonia High School Bears' right halfback, Bob Peet.

All season long Peet has gained his publicity from offensive exploits, but head coach Pat Mancuso points out that many fans overlook the five foot ten, 175 pounder's alertness on defense. The Bears' bread and butter player has stopped many plays at the line of scrimmage from his defensive back position. Leetonia opponents have scored only 13 points all year.

Mancuso points out that Peet is so good on defense he would like to use him as a line backer but by so doing, he would endanger Peet's ability to perform while Leetonia has the ball.

In Leetonia's six wins and one defeat this season, Peet has scored 81 of his team's 113 points on 13 touchdowns and three extra points. The hard charging back has averaged 8.2 yards per carry on 837 yards gained in 116 tries. He has caught four passes for 121 yards and one touchdown.

Unlike some athletes who let fanfare increase their hat size, Peet is quiet, reserved, and has more than once wished his fellow backs like Joe Mango could share to a greater extent in the scoring.

Mancuso considers Peet a natural. Whenever yardage is needed for a first down, No. 4 usually comes through in the clutch, the coach says.

A senior, Peet is president of the student council and carries a B average in academic work. He plans to enter college next fall to study engineering and play his favorite sport, football.

Leetonia fans will verify the fact that Peet is one of the most versatile players LHS has turned out in many years. Coach Mancuso says he doubts that he will ever have the pleasure of coaching a finer youth.

The last Wisconsin triumph was 20-7 in 1946.

Bluffton Faces Findlay Saturday

Each Team Has Won All Season Games

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — I may not be a big-time tussle, but football frenzy is mounting in the northwestern sector of Ohio over Saturday night's college clash between Bluffton's Beavers and Findlay's Oilers.

Each team is unbeaten-untied, Bluffton with six straight wins, Findlay with five. The championship of the tight little Mid-Ohio League hinges on the outcome. The Oilers, boasting the state's best offense and defense, have beaten four of the Mid-Ohio teams by a 203-6 margin, while Bluffton has turned back three by 127-33 with Ashland still to play.

Findlay, by beating Bluffton, can make a clean sweep of the league opposition and win its first title since 1949, the inaugural year. Bluffton, by winning, can clinch the crown if victorious over Ashland next week.

The game is one of 21 on the weekend slate for Ohio colleges, featured by invaders moving into the state from North Texas State (Youngstown tonight), and Wisconsin (Ohio State), Marshall (Bowling Green), Wayne (Western Reserve), Wabash (Ohio Wesleyan), Louisville (Ohio U.), and McMaster of Canada (Central State) Saturday.

Bowling Green is favored over Marshall, and Miami over Kent State in the weekend's Mid-American games, with the Bee-Gees and Redskins due to meet next week with the championship at stake. Each has won three in a row in the rugged loop, and all the others have fallen.

In the far-flung Ohio Conference the Muskingum - Denison tilt at Granville is getting No. 1 billing. The Muskies have won four and tied one in the loop to share top place with Heidelberg (3-0-0), but Denison with a 2-2 loop mark is given a chance. Heidelberg goes after its sixth straight win of the year, and 17th in a row over three seasons, against non-conference Baldwin-Wallace. The latter has dropped three of five starts.

The Presidents' Conference, which has confined play to two games between Case and Wayne, the latter winning both, sends all four members into action Saturday. Wayne goes against unbeaten Western Reserve, while Case tangles with John Carroll, both at Cleveland.

Other Ohio Conference contests send Wooster to Akron, Mount Union to Hiram, Capital to Wittenberg, Kenyon to Oberlin and Otterbein to Marietta, the latter the only team in the 14-college loop without a victory.

The Mid-Ohio also features Ohio Northern at Wilmington and Ashland at Defiance, while non-conference games send Dayton against Xavier in a big-time clash, and Cincinnati's win-hungry Bearcats against Marquette.

The Buckeye clubs must win three of the eight interstate contests to stay out front in that competition. Up to date the Ohioans have won 30, lost 27 and tied 2 with the outsiders.

Lou Little Gets Last Chance To Upset Army Grid Team

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

Lou Little gets his last chance to upset an Army football team Saturday, Jon Arnett plays his last game for Southern California and there may be a few other "lasts" on the middle Saturday of this odd football season.

The season may have ended for South Carolina Thursday, in fact Clemson handed the Gamecocks their first Atlantic Coast Conference defeat, 7-0, and took over the lead in the run for the Orange Bowl.

Clemson, unbeaten but tied by Florida in five games, now is 3-0 in the ACC, thanks to busy Charlie Bussey. The Tiger quarterback plunged for a first down that set up his first-period touchdown plunge, then converted and finally recovered and end zone fumble that halted a South Carolina bid in the final 3 minutes.

Patterson, Moore To Get $150,000 Each

CHICAGO (AP)—Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson each will collect about $150,000 for their scheduled 15-round fight for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight title in Chicago Stadium Nov. 30.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, gave that estimate Thursday at the formal contract signing ceremonies.

He said the Stadium will be scaled for a $471,000 gate which would set an indoor record if all the 20,015 permanent seats are sold. The record gate is $422,918 for the Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano middleweight championship scrap at the Stadium in 1947. Tickets will range at $5, $7.50, $10, $20 and $30.

Moore, the light heavyweight king, and Patterson each will receive 30 per cent of the net receipts, including a $200,000 television-radio melon. The fight will be home televised, with the Chicago area (including Milwaukee and South Bend, Ind.) blacked out, and broadcast nationally.

Norris said there was no return bout clause in the contract "simply because neither fighter is risking anything in seeking Marciano's vacated crown."

Moore only missed beating Marciano for the title by two punches in Rocky's last championship defense," said Archie's manager, Charley Johnston. "He has too much experience and punching power for Patterson."

Moore said he weighed 190 pounds and will be down to about 186 for the fight.

Patterson, 21-year-old former Olympic champion who has a 29-1 record and 20 knockouts, said he weighs 185 and plans to carry 182 into the ring. That would be four more than he weighed last June when he defeated Hurricane Jackson and was shelved with a fractured hand.

Fairfield-Waterford Will Oppose Newell

In winning four of five games thus far this season, the Fairfield-Waterford football team has scored 147 points, while limiting their opponents to 31 points.

Fairfield - Waterford has scored victories over Greenford 39-0, Lowellville 20-13, Salineville 35-6, and Beaver Local 46-0. Fairfield has lost only to Springfield 12-7.

Saturday night the Fairfield-Waterford Rebels will play Newell, at Newell, W. Va. Kick off time is slated at 7:30.

The Rebels' last game of the season will be against Malvern Nov. 9.

McQuilkin Wins Tourney

Carl McQuilkin, formerly of Salem, recently won the Russ Fankhauser Memorial Golf Tournament played at Marietta Country Club. McQuilkin wound up the 72-hole handicap tourney with a net score of 283.

The new champ carried a handicap of 20.

Oklahoma Is Favored By 25 Points

SOUTH BEND Ind. (AP)—Defense against Oklahoma's speedy calling of plays and the running pass exploited by halfback Tommy McDonald is posing plenty of concern for Notre Dame football coach Terry Brennan.

Another big problem for the young director, whose Irish have lost three of their four starts is the condition of Paul Hornung's dislocated thumb.

Brennan said it will not be until game time Saturday before he determines if the versatile Hornung, who leads Notre Dame in virtually every department of play will be able to handle the snap-back from center and thus continue to be at quarterback.

Brennan who had said he would decide definitely whether to use his star at quarterback or shift him to halfback after Thursday's practices decided to postpone any announcement.

Brennan has been spending a lot of time alternating two freshmen teams against his No. 1 unit. Just as soon as one rookie group ends a play, a second battalion charges up to the line, simulating Oklahoma's "speed calls." It gives center Eddie Sullivan a workout calling defensive plays hurriedly. Oklahoma, seeking its 35th straight victory and first over the Irish after losses in 1952 and 1953, is favored by as much as 21 points in the nationally televised game.

Illini With Injury-Riddled Backfield To Face Spartans

Star Harry Jefferson Out; Eliot Steaming For Upset

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Any hope Illinois has of upsetting Michigan State's top-ranked Spartans Saturday rest with the speed that can be coaxed out of a unit of bandaged backs.

Injuries are so prevalent that to hear coach Ray Eliot tell it this team will be taped up like mummies. At last word, however, it was definite that star halfback Harry Jefferson will be out. His ailing knee went lame again.

In his left half spot will be Bobby Mitchell, hobbled with a bad knee all season, and Dale Smith, also with leg trouble.

Eliot has been steaming up his squad for an upset of the unbeaten Spartans, whose mobile three teams routed Notre Dame 47-14 last week and sent Michigan State to No. 1 over Oklahoma in the Associated Press football poll.

Eliot is a master at keying the Fighting Illini and Illinois traditionally is one of the Big Tens best spotters. After beating California in the season opener then losing to Washington, Ohio State and Minnesota, Eliot would like nothing better than to knock off MSU—especially since it's Illini homecoming and before a sellout crowd of 71,119.

In addition to his left half troubles a sophomore—Tom Haller—will have to do most of the quarterbacking. Hiles Stout may miss the game with a bruised shoulder that hinders his passing. Haller, however, has been doing a creditable job.

The load of Illinois attack must come from Abe Woodson, a game-breaking halfback whose 6.7 yard average per carry is the big Ten's best. He sped 181 yards against Minnesota last week.

Michigan State has netted 1,046 yards rushing and 381 passing in, beating Stanford, Michigan, Indiana and Notre Dame.

There is no tradition to uphold in this game, for it marks only the second time the schools have met on the gridiron. MSU won last year's inaugural at East Lansing 21-7, and is a 20-point favorite this time.

A full schedule of conference games for the first time this season is on tap Saturday and at least two of them are pivotal in Rose Bowl reckoning. They are Iowa at Purdue and Minnesota at Michigan.

These four teams are bidding the strongest for the trip since Ohio State and Michigan State are ineligible this season.

Wisconsin is at Ohio State and Northwestern at Indiana to round out the card.

Undeclared Iowa the Big Ten's No. 1 defensive team, will try for its fifth straight decision of the campaign against Purdue, which has been beaten by Minnesota and tied by Wisconsin in conference action. The Boilermakers, in their best physical condition of the season, are a touchdown favorite.

Michigan, with a loss to MSU and victory over Northwestern, has been given a 13-point edge over Minnesota in their little brown jug rivalry. The Gophers have two Big Ten victories and one tie.

Northwestern is a slight choice to defeat the Hoosiers and register its first conference triumph since 1954. Indiana broke a three-game losing streak by downing Nebraska 19-14 last week.

Ohio State is favored by 13 points over an improving Wisconsin team. The Buckeyes will be out for their 15 consecutive Big Ten victory which would tie the conference record held by Michigan. The Buckeyes were upset last week 7-6 by Penn State while Wisconsin was battling Purdue to a 6-6 standoff.

WON'T OVERLOOK MARION
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' search for a new field manager won't overlook Marty Marion.

General Manager Hank Greenberg said in New York Thursday night he would stop in at St. Louis next week for a talk with Marion who just resigned as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

"I haven't been able to reach him, but I'm sure we can get together for a talk some time next week," said Greenberg.

At that time Greenberg will be returning from a trip to Los Angeles. His purpose in going out there: to talk about the Cleveland job with Leo Durocher, the television executive.

Salem Freshmen Win Thriller Over East Liverpool 21-14

The Salem High School freshman football team edged the East Liverpool freshman team 21-14 Thursday afternoon in a thriller at Reilly Stadium.

In the second quarter East Liverpool's Potters drove 45 yards, with Sheridan Battistelli rambling the last 10 yards around left end for the first score. Don Bulmer added the extra point on a run up the middle.

Vincent Horning kicked-off to start the second half, and Liverpool returned the ball to the 25 yard line where they fumbled and the Quakers recovered.

After several plays and an exchange of two more fumbles, Salem had a first and 10 at the Liverpool 11 yard line. From there it took the Quakers just three plays to score with Horning plunging three yards for the TD. Ned Chapell added the extra point on a run up the middle.

Early in the fourth period the Potters went ahead for the second time, marching 60 yards, with Ronnie Prince racing four yards around left end for the TD. Charlie Davidson went right up the middle to add the extra point.

Basketball, Volleyball Meetings Scheduled

A basketball meeting will be held at the Memorial Building Monday evening at 7.

All Class A, B, and Girls League managers and sponsors are requested to attend.

Discussion of rules, entry fees and other matters will be discussed.

At 8 p.m. Monday all volleyball managers and sponsors are requested to gather at the Memorial Building. The meeting agenda will be similar to that of the basketball meeting.

MAY QUIT LEAGUE

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Dover High School's athletic board will receive Monday night a special committee's recommendation that the school withdraw from the Central Ohio League, which it entered in 1941.

The committee chairman, Harold Ramsey, said fans balloted 200 to 40 for the withdrawal. A principal objection to staying in the league is travel cost. Ramsey reported that $200 was lost in a recent trip to Chillicothe.

Ohio High School Coaches To 'Educate' School Heads

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball coaches, at their annual meeting here Thursday night, voted to continue their fight to get eight class AA and eight class A teams into the state tournament.

High school principals at a summer meeting, voted practically unanimously to continue the current tournament set-up of four teams from each division. So the coaches decided to do an "educational job" on the school heads who have the final word in such matters.

H. W. Emswiler state high school athletic commissioner, said

Bahama-Gonzalez Fight Scheduled Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Two eager 23-year-old middleweights will try to elbow past the old favorites into the top 10 of the division tonight in a Madison Square Garden match between Yama Bahama and Tex Gonzalez.

If Bahama, a 3-1 favorite, loses it would be quite a surprise for he had a 23-fight winning streak until he was upset by Pat Lowry at Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 9. Bahama's manager Bobby Nelnick claimed his fighter first was announced as winner but the decision was changed while he was leaving the park. He hasn't fought since.

In 47 fights since 1953, Bahama has a 40-5-2 record with 13 knockouts. He was stopped only once. Gonzalez, who fought two "wars" with Gaspar Ortega during the winter months, has a 23-5-1 record. Although he has knocked out only two, his handlers claim he is a better puncher than his record indicates.

Stengel Is Voted Manager Of Year

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—Casey

Stengel, a wonderful man who has perfected the oratorical double reverse with a split infinitive and flanked adjective is duly grateful and honored to be voted the American League Manager of the Year.

He said so today at his home in Glendale, where he is resting up after leading the New York Yankees to their sixth World Series triumph and seventh pennant in his eight years with the club.

Casey scored a lopsided victory in the annual Associated Press poll of members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America — 164 of the 207 votes. This was 150 more than his rival for the honor, Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles.

Casey asked again for the vote and when it was repeated he grinned from ear to ear:

"I'm going to a dinner tonight and I want to know if I can tell 'em I'm a big man."

Richards polled 14 votes. Marty Marion, who parted company with the Chicago White Sox Thursday night, collected 13 votes. Bucky Harris, late of the Detroit Tigers, had 10, and Al Lopez, also late of the Cleveland Indians, had 4. Pinky Higgins, Manager of the Year in 1955 with the Boston Red Sox, got 2.

Boston—Nino Valdes, 210, Havana, knocked out Bob Woodall, 213, Boston, 3.

Virginia Democrats Predict Stevenson Will Carry State

RICHMOND (AP) — Conventional victory predictions by the Democratic faithful in restive Virginia are tinged these days with an optimism that was lacking four years ago.

The regulars maintain that Adlai Stevenson is about to recapture this traditionally Democratic commonwealth, which it lost in 1952.

They may be justified. Democrats outnumber Republicans by far in this northernmost of the Dixie states. And this year, despite an absence of visible enthusiasm for the candidate himself there is evidence the Democrats are plugging their national ticket. A good many of them stood aside in 1952.

President Eisenhower's personal popularity — although punctured in some areas by wrath at the Supreme Court's school integration ruling — could still sway Virginia's 12 electoral votes again. A lot of Democrats aren't happy with Stevenson's civil rights stand, either.

Inward uncertainty on both sides is typified in a political cartoon that appeared last week in the Richmond Times-Dispatch. It showed three presidential candidates behind the railing of an apple orchard gazing anxiously toward a sphinx bearing the features of Sen. Harry Flood Byrd.

The senator, Berryville apple grower and dominant figure in Virginia's Democratic party, has preserved the silence of a sphinx while political leaders wonder: Will he come out for Eisenhower or Stevenson?

Byrd didn't endorse Eisenhower in 1952, but he said he could not support Stevenson. In the aftermath, Eisenhower polled 56 per cent of Virginia's vote and became the second Republican presidential candidate to win the state since the reconstruction period. Herbert Hoover was the first.

The cartoon also served to point up that in Virginia there are three contenders. The third is T. Coleman Andrews, campaigning here with a states' rights party label. And Andrews, the Eisenhower Democrat who resigned last year as commissioner of internal revenue to condemn the income tax he had been collecting raises another question:

How much will a third party hurt the major candidates, and which the most?

But it's widely agreed that the drain he makes on Eisenhower and Stevenson will be an important factor. Most observers think Eisenhower will lose more than Stevenson.

Byrd likely could tip the scales either way by speaking out. As between Eisenhower and Stevenson, he has been mum. Asked some time ago if he would have anything to say, Byrd replied: "I will only repeat what I said several days ago—that I completely support the action of the Virginia delegates at the national convention."

The Virginia delegates voted to the end for former Gov. John S. Battle, even after Stevenson's nomination had been assured.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Some of Harry Truman's letters made more headlines than history. Some of President Eisenhower's letters are making more history than headlines. There is one such letter in the pocket of a union member in a small New Jersey Jersey town.

Victor Riesel

This fellow has been carrying it around for weeks — prizing it, of course—but at the same time sitting on one of the good stories of this campaign.

The note won't electrify the world but it will reveal that there is a sharp difference between the White House campaign strategy and that of the more conservative Republican senators.

It will disclose that the President long ago decided to get into this campaign for the labor vote by going over the heads of the labor leaders—personally.

It all began on Aug. 29.

This was just hours after the AFL-CIO high command came out of its closed conference room in Unity House, Pa., and told news-men that it had voted to endorse Stevenson and Kefauver.

ON HEARING THIS over the radio, a worker by the name of John J. Butkus, an electric power truck driver in General Electric's air conditioning department in Bloomfield, N. J., sat down and wrote a letter to the White House.

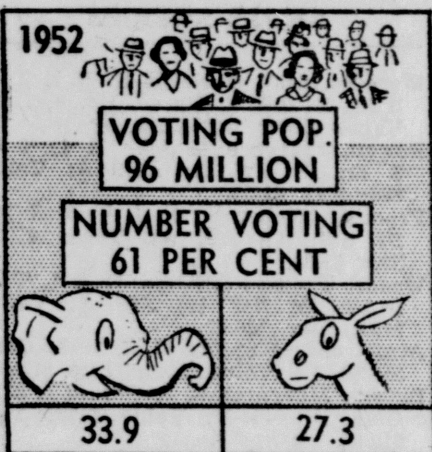

He addressed himself not to the President but to Jim Hagerty, conveyor of presidential things to the nation's press. This is the letter Mr. Butkus wrote:

"Dear Mr. James C. Hagerty: I am taking this great opportunity as a common working man to express my personal opinion in regards to my high ranking AFL-CIO union officials who have endorsed the Democratic ticket for the presidential election.

"I am a union member of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, District 4, Newark, N. J., employed at the General Electric Co. Air Conditioning Dept., Bloomfield, N.Y. as an electric powered truck driver. I also represent the union in this plant serving as a shop steward of Local 442.

"Now what I would like to say in this matter is this:

"I RESPECT my District Union president and all the high ranking union officials. I will support my respected officers in any labor dispute, regardless of what the outcome may be. I will walk picket lines as I have in the past. I will go hungry as I did many times.

WERE YOU MISSING?—Only 61 per cent of the adult population exercised their voting rights in the last presidential election. The important issue is not for whom you vote, but rather that you DO VOTE.

I will go on strike whenever they say. But this I will never be a part of, therefore I want to state very clearly that I am not and will not be a part of their political views.

"As far as I am concerned, they are thinking and speaking for themselves and nobody else."

A week or so later Mr. Butkus received a White House reply. Not from the press secretary but from the President himself. For on Sept. 5, Mr. Eisenhower dictated the following note:

"DEAR MR. BUTKUS: Mr. Hagerty has allowed me to read your very forthright letter concerning your refusal to allow anyone else to speak for you in the exercise of your indestructible American right of political freedom. I respect you for your pronouncement of union loyalty and all those things for which unions are organized—the betterment of the individual worker's lot through the right and power of organization and collective bargaining.

"At the same time I most sincerely hope—and believe—that your determination to express your own political decision in your own way is shared by the great bulk of Americans, including those who form our trade unions.

"I also express the hope that you will never find it necessary, in your support of your elected leaders, to carry out that part of your pledge which says, 'I will go hungry as I did many times.'"

"IT SEEMS TO ME that this country of ours is producing quality goods at such a rate that it should never again be necessary for a qualified worker to go hungry—even if he should find it upon rare occasion necessary to strike.

"With renewed assurance of my respect for your position, and with best wishes, Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Ice Can Dam Up Flood Of Trouble In Gutters

Neglect of a seemingly minor household maintenance chore—that of keeping gutters and downspouts free of debris—can lead to expensive trouble.

"Trouble" takes the form of damage caused by water, ice and snow. "Damage," in turn, consists of peeling paint on side walls under the eaves, disfigured walls and ceilings and rotted structural members within the walls.

If your home has been damaged by any of those three conditions you can blame only yourself. For your failure to keep gutters and downspouts clear probably resulted in this four-part sequence of events:

1. In winter, heat escaping upward melts snow on the roof.
2. Now water, it flows to cold zones lower down on the roof and in the gutters.

3. With its movement restricted by debris in the gutter, the water freezes, forming dams which block the escape of more melted snow.
4. Trapped in pools behind the "ice dams," water works its way under shingles and roof covering to the interior.

Chances are the first visible damage will be evident on interior walls and ceilings as damp spots appear and grow larger. If immediate steps are not taken to correct the condition, ceiling plaster may fall.

In addition, siding of the house directly under the eaves is subjected to the destructive onslaught from overflowing gutters and paint may begin to peel off.

Before attempting to repair the damage, it's best to eliminate the possibility of future trouble. For one thing, install additional insulation on the attic side of the roof to reduce the amount of warm air escaping through the roof from indoors.

Another trick is to install waterproof electric heating cables along the lower 16 inches of the roof—as well as in gutters and downspouts. These devices enable you—at the flick of a switch—to keep the gutter clear for passage of water (providing, of course, other causes of stoppage are removed).

A third method consists of installing sheet-metal flashing beneath roof shingles from the gutters' edge upward to a point beyond the danger zone, or approximately three feet past the wall line.

Although this does not prevent the formation of ice dams, it keeps moisture out of the interior of the house.

The full name of Queen Frederika of Greece is Frederika Louisa Thyra Victoria Margarita Sophia Olga Cecilia Isabella Christina.
